The Bend product group combines comfort and modularity with its modern design in new-generation executive offices, waiting, and relaxation areas. Bend takes its name from its form, aiming to create a sense of well-being in spaces by setting a boundary against situations that do not benefit the body and soul.

There are two sizes of cushions, 65 x 40 cm and 40 x 40 cm, specially produced for the executive sofa for more comfort and ergonomic use.

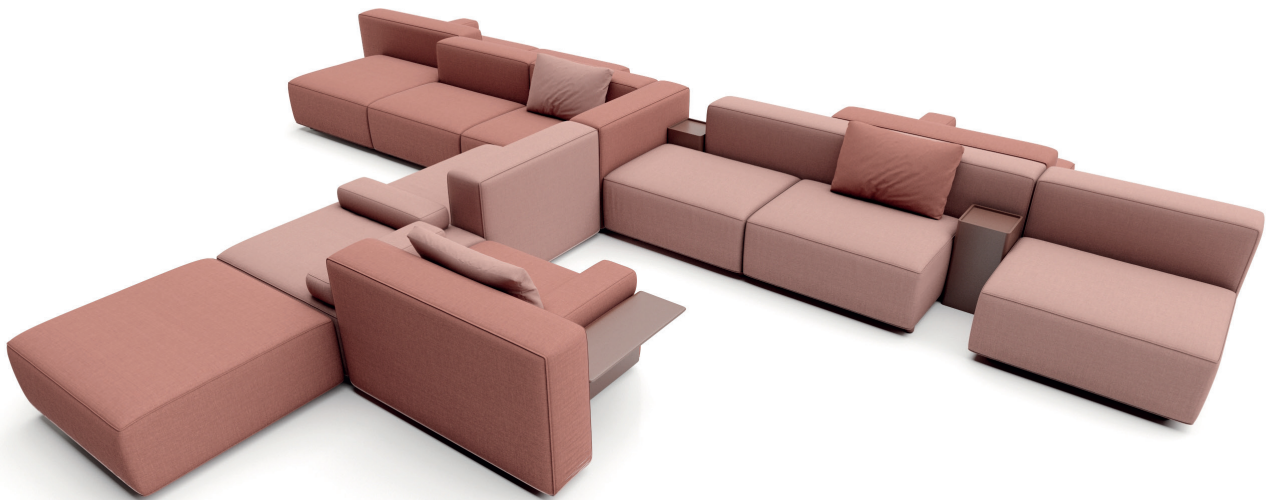

Bend Executive Sofa

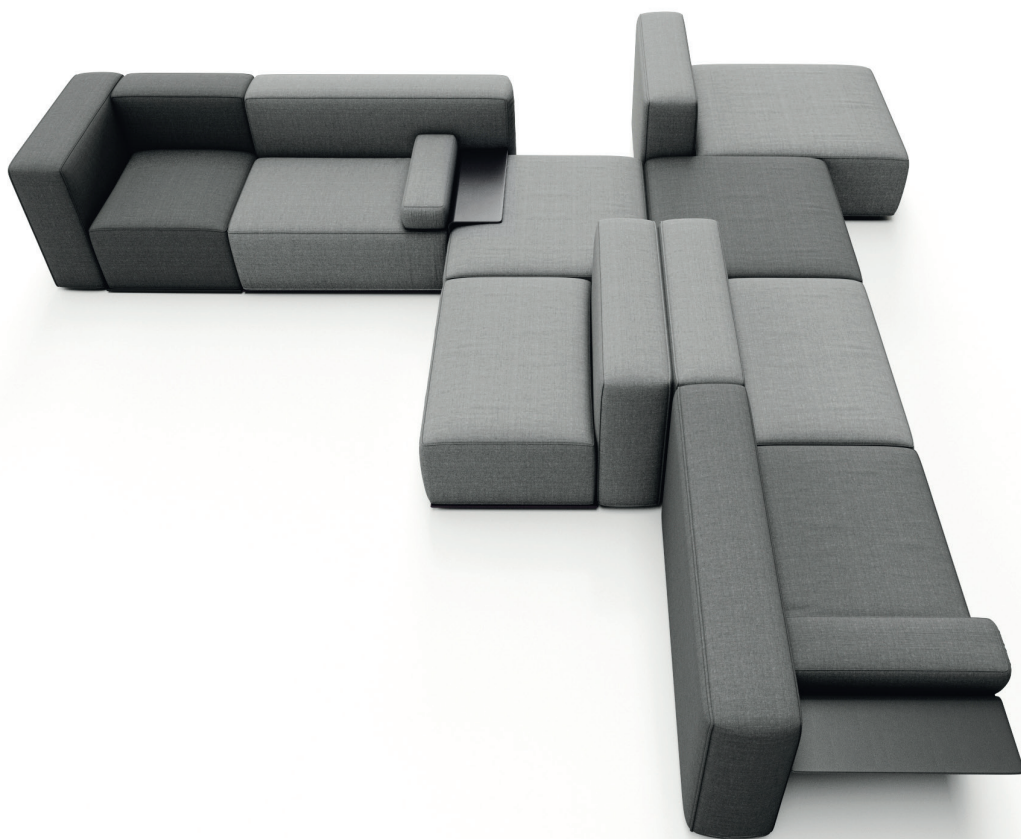

With soft and specially sprung foam in the seating area, Bend offers maximum comfort while maintaining an ergonomic, stylish, and modern design. For executive offices, the thin outer contour with leather detailing and the integrated side tables enhance the sense of elegance.

Bend Waiting Group

The Bend Waiting Group, featuring 11 different modules, is designed to bring the same level of comfort and design language to waiting and relaxation areas. It allows users to select from different modules and create their own configurations based on their personal spaces and preferences.

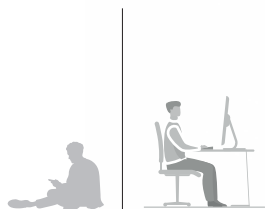

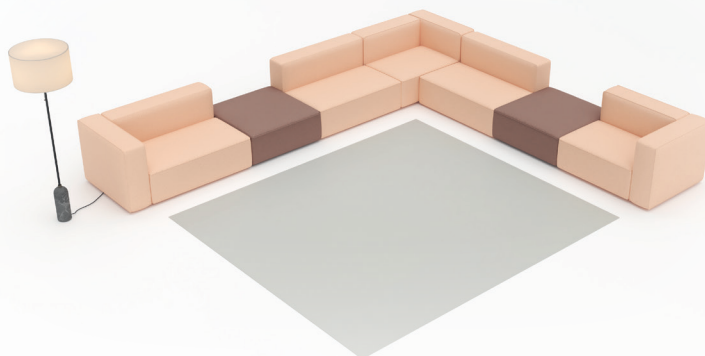

Contrary to its massive appearance, Bend is a structure that can adapt to the area where it is located. It can be shaped around immovable elements of buildings such as walls and columns in accordance with the space.
